Make meetings matter at BAC

1. Do you need to meet?
2. Agenda. Purpose. First. Always.
3. Keep them small
4. Keep it short
5. Try a stand up
6. Switch off & tune in
7. Speak up

10:20 am -10:40 am

BACACG Website Correspondence.

Jessica Shannon: Email campaign is ongoing led by the Brisbane flight Path Community Alliance.

Campaign works by QR code, and the email addresses are automatically prefilled. BACACG has now been added.

25 emails received – From community members all over Brisbane. Emails not read out due to time, however print outs made available for BACACG members. Brisbane Airport Corporation has been responding to them.

Donna Marshall: Wanted to make it known if the email is not addressed to NCIS it wouldn't be added to the NCIS complaint data. They may need to be treated separately.

Regular reporting updates Community and Industry.

Chris Kang: Community concerns with BCC developing close to the residential area, and with the quarantine facilities community wanting an update in relation to how is that going to affect the community.

Paul Coughlan: The Commonwealth Department of Finance consultants reached out to BAC because just like Pinkenba we are a close neighbour and informed that it was delayed. Will make sure Chris is updated and contacted through to the consultant.

Chair: Suggested a presentation at BACACG.

Megan Thomas: Informed that it would be from The Commonwealth Department of Finance, however happy to put the request through. – ACTION

Stephen Ware: Has concerns with the information that has been provided by some flight path groups and political parties to the community. Need to ensure Brisbane Airport Corporation and Airservices Australia are providing accurate and updated information, so the community has access to all the information not just what the flight path groups want them to hear/ read.

Laurie Buys: Complimented ASA for their efforts and the information that was provided with the PIR Forum. Concerns in the community because they are under the legacy runway and not as vocal as other groups and don't protest, the flight paths will be shifted back.

AI Crawford: Advise volumes are still down due to the borders being closed, and would expect an increase come January depending on what's happening in the current situation of Covid.

Andy Bauer: Similar passenger numbers as Qantas.

Shane Spargo: Advised that they have just had their roundtable meeting which have now moved to biannual, and it was noted it is extremely useful to the group to get together and discuss the planning framework that sits around the airport. Attendees included, Economic Development Queensland who presented on the consultation for the amendment to the North Shore Hamilton property Development.

Cassandra Sun: BCC provided comment back to the state regarding the North Shore PDA development scheme amendment. BCC has a number of planning scheme amendments and neighbourhood planning exercises and that are currently ongoing- Eight-mile Plains Gateway neighbourhood plan is currently on public consultation until the 6th December. Industrial draft strategy has no release date.
